Background	As a dedicated teacher in The Gambia with years of experience, I have developed strong social skills and a proven ability to work collaboratively with others. My passion for education drives me to create engaging learning environments that foster academic excellence and personal growth. Beyond the classroom, I'm also passionate about agriculture. During the rainy season, I cultivate crops on my farm, experimenting with innovative techniques to improve yields and sustainability. This hands-on experience has not only deepened my understanding of agricultural practices but also instilled in me a sense of self-sufficiency and appreciation for the importance of sustainable food systems. As an educator, I believe that my agricultural experiences can inform my teaching practices, enabling me to create more relevant and engaging lesson plans that connect theoretical concepts to real-world applications. My goal is to inspire my students to develop a similar passion for agriculture and sustainable development, empowering them to become future leaders in shaping The Gambia's agricultural sector. With my unique blend of teaching expertise and agricultural knowledge, I am confident that I can make a positive impact in any sector of work.
