Background	a driven engineering specialist with a solid background in electrical and electronic engineering. With a B.Tech. (Hons) in Electronics, I have a wealth of real-world expertise ELV engineering with industrial and electrical systems. Building automation, industrial electrical installations, and Extra Low Voltage (ELV) systems are just a few of the cutting-edge electrical engineering systems that I have experience developing, planning, and managing. I have gained practical knowledge in electrical panel systems, VFD controlling, PLC basics (ladder programming), and motor control circuits (both single-phase and three-phase) through specialized training programs. I can create effective and sustainable solutions thanks to this technical knowledge, which is further enhanced by hands-on experience with electrical measurements and solar energy systems. I have extensive experience with the operation and upkeep of high-rise building infrastructure, including Mechanical, Electrical, and Plumbing (MEP) systems, during my industrial training at Facilities Management Integrated (Pvt) Ltd. In order to guarantee the smooth running of vital electrical infrastructure, I acquired significant expertise in BMS operations, generator maintenance, fire safety systems, and routine inspections. I have a strong interest in electrical engineering and am committed to providing innovative, high quality solutions that satisfy the ever-changing needs of contemporary engineering projects.
